Woodgrove is certainly in full bloom and thriving with a number of exciting activities planned for May.

How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying will be performed on our stage beginning Thursday, May 1. I urge you to attend as this will be an outstanding show! In addition, our celebration of the Arts will continue in May as we host our spring music concerts. Please take this opportunity to join us for these wonderful performances. Information pertaining to performance dates and times are included on our school calendar and in this newsletter.

Also, May brings with it Conference, Regional and State competitions for our athletic teams. Please be sure to check the school calendar and come out to Woodgrove to cheer on the teams. Also, thank you to the WWABC for hosting the Fore the Wolverines Charity Golf Classic on Monday, May 5, at the Stoneleigh Golf Course. Proceeds from this event provide scholarships for our students. There is still time to register and information may be found on our school's website or by clicking on this link: <http://www.lcps.org/Page/110370>

I also am very pleased to share that our PTO is in the midst of finalizing plans for our Seniors' Graduation Night Party. This party is for graduating Seniors only and it will be held at Woodgrove on June 17, beginning at 9 PM and will last until 2 AM. Information pertaining to the Graduation Night party can be found on our school website or click on this link: <http://www.lcps.org/Page/120908>

Graduation is scheduled for Tuesday, June 17, at 8 AM. Seniors need to be at school by 6:30 AM.

During May we also will honor the work our teachers have performed throughout the year. Much of our success can be attributed to the dedication and devotion our teachers give to our students daily. Woodgrove is fortunate to have such extraordinary adults guiding our students. We will begin our celebration with our Teacher Appreciation Week on May 5 - May 9. We encourage students, parents and the community to take time during this week to share an expression of gratitude to a teacher or some other member of the faculty.

Standards of Learning (SOL) tests and Advanced Placement (AP) tests will be administered in May. Included in this newsletter is information regarding our testing schedule and on-line testing. These tests are important and we have devoted many resources to ensure that all of our students are prepared to take these tests. Please be sure your son/daughter gets plenty of rest, eats breakfast and is on time to school during these testing sessions.

As spring certainly is upon us and everyone is enjoying the longer days and the outdoors, please be safe and take any necessary precautionary steps to avoid Lyme disease. Inside this newsletter is information pertaining to this and a website from the CDC which will provide important information regarding Lyme Disease.

With regards to spring, and the warm weather which will be here to stay, we have reminded students of our dress code. Please take time to discuss appropriate school attire with your son/daughter.

Best wishes to everyone and thank you for your support.

Sincerely,

William S. Shipp
Principal

School-wide Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports 2013-2014

PBIS – HAVE YOU HEARD??

The 2013-2014 school year at Woodgrove High School marks our third year of Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS). PBIS is an approach for teaching students appropriate behavior and providing the supports necessary to sustain that behavior. The goal of PBIS is to reduce challenging student behavior through a proactive, positive, and consistent manner across all school settings while also improving academic achievement and social competence. PBIS is a nationwide program currently being implemented in 52 schools within Loudoun County.

PBIS provides a framework, but it is up to the schools to determine the focus and expectations. The three school-wide expectations for WHS are the following: Work with Integrity, Honor Others, and Strive for Success. These expectations have been broken down into specific behaviors. Posters displaying the expectations and specific behaviors are visible throughout the school.

When students are seen demonstrating the school expectations, they can earn Champion Tickets. The Champion Ticket drawings occur weekly and students whose tickets are drawn earn various recognitions. Some recognitions come in the form of donations, but in order to effectively continue this system of acknowledgement, we need more. If you are interested in donating something that could be used as a recognition for acknowledging students or faculty members who have exceeded expectations and help to create a positive environment, please contact Renée Dawson, WHS Assistant Principal. Donations could be in the form of tickets to sporting events, gift cards, etc.

Dear Western Loudoun Businesses, Organizations, Partners and Parents:

Woodgrove High School celebrated the graduation of the Class of 2013 with our first ever Graduation Night Celebration held on site at the school itself. Very soon it will be the Class of 2014's turn!

This year we hope to reach an even greater number of students. We are working together with Ultimate Amusement to provide a variety of entertainment options for the Class of 2014's last memorable night as "Wolverines." There will truly be something that will appeal to everyone! We will also be welcoming on stage the incredibly talented, student-driven band, The Immortals!

We need your help to make this evening a success. The end of the school year promises freedom, independence, and the onset of adulthood to our children. As most of you are aware, spring also marks statistically a season of the highest teen auto fatalities and alcohol-related car crashes. Our Western Loudoun community is so tightly knit that one solitary loss affects us all. The children that pass through these doors were, are or will soon be your children as well.

We are asking for your monetary help in our fundraising efforts. Contributions in the form of services or gift certificates to give to our seniors as prizes are also welcomed. Please give in whatever way you can for this important cause. All contributions are tax deductible. Please make your check payable to the "Woodgrove High School PTSO" and notate in the memo that funds should be earmarked for GNP. Our tax ID number is 27-2800768.

Thank you so much for your support.

Sincerely,

Susanne Kahler,
Woodgrove High School PTSO President
WoodgrovePTSOPresident@gmail.com

From the PTSO President:

2-4-6-8, Who do we appreciate????!!

Woodgrove teachers and staff are the best in Western Loudoun and we have so much to thank them for! This year in particular I think has been a really rough year. Despite having so many snow days, they still have to find a way to cover all the curriculum they normally would in time for the May SOL and AP crush. Also, resolution of the budget this season was a particularly acrimonious affair, resulting in EVERY single teacher in Loudoun County taking home a reduction-in-force (RIF) notice. That certainly doesn't boost morale.

Well, now it is time to send them our thanks and appreciation. May 5-9th is Teacher Appreciation week and the PTSO has a variety of events planned for our staff, thanks to Karina Chiesa, our hospitality coordinator and YOU - our absolutely awesome Woodgrove parents. In addition to these events, however, we encourage you to please take some time out of your busy schedule and send in a note or have your student bring in something to that teacher who has made all the difference in their life. It doesn't have to be much - a heartfelt note is more personal precious than anything store bought. Just let them know that you care because we know that they certainly do! What they do for our children and the dedication they show goes way above and beyond the basics.

SENIOR-ITIS AND GRAD NIGHT 2014 -YOUR NIGHT, YOUR PARTY.

It is spring and the trees are burdened with blossoms and the calendar is filled with important dates. I can feel it in the air! The end of the year is bearing down with college acceptances, prom, graduation, and GRAD NIGHT 2014. This year's party will outshine last year's event, so don't miss out! The Immortals will be rocking the gym. We will have casino games in the cafeteria, a temporary tattoo artist, virtual reality games, graffiti wall, photo booth, roaming magicians, food & refreshments, great prizes and so much more! Mark your calendar for June 17th from 9 pm until 2 am. It is YOUR YEAR, YOUR PARTY. Tickets for this event are on sale online on the school website as are tickets for our VIP RAFFLE. If you want a no-hassle event, then take a chance to win guaranteed parking and seating for up to 8 people indoors or out.

Last but not least, we are looking for a few good men AND women to serve on the PTSO board next year. Rising 9th grade parents are also encouraged to get involved! Elections will be held at our May 13th meeting. We have a variety of positions for you to utilize your talents while also benefiting our school, staff and students. We have accomplished some amazing things in support of our school this year. Please contact me at WoodgrovePTSOPresident for position descriptions and more information on how you can help.

Sports Injuries

Ingrown Toenail

If you trim your toenails too short, particularly on the sides of your big toes, you may set the stage for an ingrown toenail. Like many people, when you trim your toes, you may taper the corners so that the nail curves with the shape of your toe. But this technique may encourage your toenail to grow into the skin of your toe. The sides of the nail curl down and dig into your skin. An ingrown toenail may also happen if you wear shoes that are too tight or too short. Any of your toenails can get ingrown, but it's most likely your big toes.

When you first have an ingrown toenail, it may be hard, swollen and tender. Later, it may get red and infected and feel very sore. You may see pus drain from it. Finally, your skin may start to grow over the ingrown toenail.

To treat an infected ingrown toenail, soak your foot in warm, soapy water several times a day. Try to gently lift the edge of the toenail from its embedded position and insert some cotton or waxed dental floss between the nail and the skin. Change this packing every day. Your doctor may even prescribe a course of antibiotics.

If the infection keeps coming back, your doctor may remove part of the ingrown toenail. Your toe is injected with an anesthetic and the ingrown part of the nail is cut away with scissors being careful not to disturb the nail bed. It may take 3-4 months for your nail to re-grow. Ingrown toenails often recur. If you have a chronic problem your doctor may recommend another surgical procedure in which the toenail's formative part is permanently removed.

You can lower your risk of developing an ingrown toenail by trimming your toenails straight across with no rounded corners. The length of your toenail should extend out past your skin. Also, make sure your shoes and socks are not too tight and that your feet are clean at all times.

Nutrition

Post-exercise muscle soreness may be relieved by watermelon juice.

Watermelon juice's reputation among athletes is getting scientific support in a new study. Researchers found that juice from the summer favorite fruit can relieve post-exercise muscle soreness. The study in the Journal of Agriculture and Food Chemistry attributes watermelon's effects to the amino acid L-citrulline.

Researchers cite past studies on watermelon juice's antioxidant properties and its potential to increase muscle protein and enhance athletic performance. But scientists had yet to explore the effectiveness of watermelon juice drinks enriched in L-citrulline.

The new study tested natural watermelon juice, watermelon juice enriched in L-citrulline and a control drink containing no L-citrulline on volunteers an hour before exercise. Both the natural juice and the enriched juice relieved muscle soreness in the volunteers. L-citrulline in the natural juice (unpasteurized), however, seemed to be more bioavailable in a form the body could better use, the study found.

Choose Your Cover

Not all sun protection comes in a bottle. There are lots of ways to protect your child's skin all year long. Here are five you can try.

1. Hide and Seek. UV rays are strongest and most harmful during midday, so it's best to plan indoor activities then. If this is not possible, seek shade under a tree, an umbrella or a pop-up tent. Use these options to prevent sunburn, not to seek relief once it's happened.

2. Cover 'em Up. Clothing that covers your child's skin helps protect against UV rays. Although a long-sleeved shirt and long pants with a tight weave are best, they aren't always practical. A T-shirt, long shorts or a beach cover-up are good choices, too—but it's wise to double up on protection by applying sunscreen or keeping your child in the shade when possible.

3. Get a Hat. Hats that shade the face, scalp, ears, and neck are easy to use and give great protection. Baseball caps are popular among kids but they don't protect their ears and neck. If your child chooses a cap, be sure to protect exposed areas with sunscreen.

4. Shades Are Cool. And they protect your child's eyes from UV rays, which can lead to cataracts later in life. Look for sunglasses that wrap around and block as close to 100% of both UVA and UVB rays as possible.

5. Rub on Sunscreen. Use sunscreen with at least SPF 15 and UVA/UVB protection every time your child goes outside.

Sunscreen Scoop

Sunscreen may be easy, but it doesn't protect your child's skin completely. Try combining sunscreen with other "Choose Your Cover" options to prevent UV damage. Sunscreen comes in a variety of forms—lotions, sprays, wipes, or gels. Be sure to choose one made especially for kids with:

- Sun Protection Factor (SPF) of 15 or higher
- Both UVA and UVB protection

For most effective protection, apply sunscreen generously 30 minutes before going outdoors. And, don't forget to protect ears, noses, lips, and the tops of feet which often go unprotected.

Take sunscreen with you to reapply during the day, especially after your child swims or exercises. This applies to "waterproof" and "water resistant" products as well.

Keep in mind, sunscreen is not meant to allow your kids to spend more time in the sun than they would otherwise. Sunscreen reduces damage from UV radiation, it doesn't eliminate it.

The American Academy of Pediatrics now advises that sunscreen use on babies less than 6 months old is not harmful on small areas of a baby's skin, such as the face and back of the hands. But your baby's best defense against sunburn is avoiding the sun or staying in the shade.

Too Much Sun Hurts

Did you know that just a few serious sunburns can increase your child's risk of skin cancer later in life? Kids don't have to be at the pool, beach, or on vacation to get too much sun. Their skin needs protection from the sun's harmful ultraviolet (UV) rays whenever they're outdoors.

Turning pink? Unprotected skin can be damaged by the sun's UV rays in as little as 15 minutes. Yet it can take up to 12 hours for skin to show the full effect of sun exposure. So, if your child's skin looks "a little pink" today, it may be burned tomorrow morning. To prevent further burning, get your child out of the sun.

Tan? There's no other way to say it—tanned skin is damaged skin. Any change in the color of your child's skin after time outside—whether sunburn or suntan—indicates damage from UV rays.

Cool and cloudy? Children still need protection. UV rays, not the temperature, do the damage. Clouds do not block UV rays, they filter them—and sometimes only slightly.

Continued...

Oops! Kids often get sunburned when they are outdoors unprotected for longer than expected. Remember to plan ahead, and keep sun protection handy—in your car, bag, or child's backpack. Parents, help your children play it safe in the sun and protect your own skin as well. You're an important role model. For more information on sun

PREVENTING TICK-BORNE DISEASES IN VIRGINIA

Spring and summer bring warm temperatures, just right for walking in the woods and other outdoor activities. Warm weather also means that ticks become more active and this can increase the risk of a tick-borne disease. The tick-borne diseases that occur most often in Virginia are Lyme disease, Rocky Mountain spotted fever, and ehrlichiosis.

Lyme Disease

Lyme disease is caused by infection with a bacterium called Borrelia burgdorferi. The number of Lyme disease cases reported in Virginia has increased substantially in recent years.

The Tick

The blacklegged tick (Ixodes scapularis), formerly known as the deer tick, is the only carrier of Lyme disease in the Eastern U.S. The blacklegged tick's name comes from it being the only tick in the Eastern U.S. that bites humans and has legs that are black (or dark chocolate brown) in color.

Lyme disease transmission to humans usually occurs during the late spring and early summer when young (nymph stage) ticks are active and feeding. Tick nymphs normally feed on small and medium sized animals, but will also feed on people. These ticks typically become infected with the Lyme disease agent by feeding as larvae on certain rodent species. In the fall, the nymphs become adults and infected nymphs become infected adults. Adult blacklegged ticks prefer to feed on deer. However, adult ticks will occasionally bite people on warm days of the fall and winter and can transmit Lyme disease at that time.

Transmission of Lyme disease by the nymph or adult ticks does not occur until the tick has been attached and feeding on a human or animal host for at least 36 hours.

The Symptoms

Between three days to several weeks after being bitten by an infected tick, 70-90% of people develop a circular or oval rash, called erythema migrans (or EM), at the site of the bite. To qualify as an EM, the rash must be at least two inches in diameter. That is because bites by some tick species can cause local inflammation and redness around the bite that could be mistaken for an EM. Unlike localized inflammation, an EM rash will increase in size and may become more than 12 inches across. As it enlarges, the area around the center of the rash clears, giving it a "bull's eye" appearance. The EM rash does not itch or hurt so if it is not seen, it may not be noticed. In addition to an EM rash, Lyme disease may cause headache, fever, muscle and joint aches, and a feeling of tiredness. If left untreated, Lyme disease may progress to affect the joints, nervous system, or heart several weeks to months after the tick bite. In a small percentage of infected people, late symptoms may occur months to years later and cause long-term nervous system problems or arthritis.

EM Rash

PREVENTING TICK-BORNE DISEASE IN VIRGINIA

Unfortunately, blacklegged tick nymphs are small (about the size of a pinhead), difficult to see, and cause no itch or irritation at the site of the bite, so many people are not aware they have been bitten. If you have been in an area that might contain ticks and you experience any symptoms of Lyme disease, contact your doctor.

The Treatment

When Lyme disease is detected early, its effects can be mild and easily treated with antibiotics. In the late stages, Lyme disease can be treated successfully with antibiotics, but recovery may take considerably longer.

Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever

Rocky Mountain spotted fever (RMSF) is caused by infection with a bacterium called Rickettsia rickettsii. The disease is characterized by a sudden onset of symptoms and can be fatal if not treated. Nearly all cases occur in the spring and summer months.

The Tick

In Virginia, the American dog tick (Dermacentor variabilis) is the species known to carry the agent of Rocky Mountain spotted fever. The tick needs to feed on a host/person for only about four hours to transmit the bacteria. Fortunately, less than 1% of American dog ticks carry the agent of RMSF.

The Symptoms

Symptoms of Rocky Mountain spotted fever begin 2-14 days after the tick bite, and may include fever, deep muscle pain, severe headache, chills, and upset stomach or vomiting. From the third to fifth day of illness a red, spotted rash may appear, beginning on the wrists and ankles. The rash spreads quickly to the palms of the hands and soles of the feet and then to the rest of the body. However, only about half of RMSF patients develop a rash.

The Treatment

Antibiotic treatment for RMSF is effective, and suspected RMSF should be treated as soon as possible based on symptoms and a history of tick exposure. The risk of death from RMSF increases by the fifth day of illness - but the rash often does not occur until that time. Therefore, do not wait for RMSF blood test results, or the appearance of a rash, before starting treatment. Treatment is important; almost one-third of those who do not get treated die from this disease.

Ehrlichiosis and Anaplasmosis

Although several diseases can be caused by bacteria in the Ehrlichia and Anaplasma genera, the most common in Virginia are human monocytic ehrlichiosis (HME) and human granulocytic anaplasmosis (HGA). HME is transmitted only by the lone star tick (Amblyomma americanum) and most commonly by bites from adult ticks. Lone star ticks are very common and are responsible for the most tick bites to people in Virginia. HGA is transmitted only by the blacklegged tick (most commonly by bites from nymphal stage ticks). The bacteria causing HME or HGA will not be transmitted unless the infected tick has been attached and feeding for at least 24 hours.

The Symptoms

Symptoms for both HME and HGA can include fever, headache, muscle pain, vomiting, and general discomfort. Illness can be severe - up to 3% of patients may die if not treated.

The Treatment

HME and HGA respond rapidly to treatment with antibiotics. Treatment should be based on symptoms (including platelet and liver enzyme tests) and history of tick exposure. Treatment should not be delayed while waiting for ehrlichiosis- or anaplasmosis-specific serology results.

Other Diseases

Ticks can transmit other diseases, such as tularemia (rabbit fever) and babesiosis. Neither of these illnesses is common in Virginia. Tularemia is a bacterial disease that has a sudden onset of fever and chills. Typically, an ulcer develops at the site of the tick bite and surrounding lymph nodes become enlarged. Tularemia is a serious illness and untreated cases may be fatal. Tularemia is most commonly associated with the American dog tick, but may also be transmitted by the lone star tick. Babesiosis is caused by a parasite that infects red blood cells. The babesiosis agent is transmitted only by infected black legged ticks. Symptoms include fever, chills, muscle aches, fatigue, and jaundice. Fatalities may occur in immuno-compromised or splenectomized patients.

PREVENTIN G TICK-BORNE DISEASE IN VIRGINIA

Spotted rash on arm and hand of RMSF patient.

Prevention

Ticks do not jump or fly; they wait on the forest floor, leaf litter, or low vegetation and attach to the feet or shoes of people or legs of animals as they pass by. The ticks then crawl upward.

The following steps can reduce your risk of tick-borne diseases:

- Avoid potential tick habitats such as tall grass and vegetation in shaded areas, forests, and along forest edges.
- Walk in the center of mowed trails to avoid brushing against vegetation.
- Keep grass cut and underbrush thinned in yards. If pesticides are used for tick control, follow directions carefully or hire a professional to apply the pesticide.
- Eliminate wood piles and objects that provide cover and nesting sites for small rodents around your property.
- Wear light-colored clothing so that ticks are easier to see and remove.
- Tuck pant legs into socks and boots, tuck shirts into pants, and wear long-sleeved shirts buttoned at the wrist.
- Conduct tick checks on yourself and your children every four to six hours while in tick habitat.
- Apply tick repellent to areas of the body and clothing that may come in contact with grass and brush. Repellents include those containing up to 50% DEET for adults or less than 30% for children. An aerosol repellent/insecticide containing 0.5% permethrin may be applied to shoes, socks, and other clothing, but should not be used on skin. Follow directions carefully and do not overuse. Some tick repellents can cause toxic or allergic reactions.
- Ask your veterinarian to recommend tick control methods for your pets. Animals can get Lyme disease, Rocky Mountain spotted fever, and ehrlichiosis, but they do not transmit these diseases to humans.

Tick Removal

Because ticks do not transmit disease until they have been attached to the host for several hours or several days, it is very important to remove ticks as soon as they are found. The following is the best way to remove a tick:

- Grasp the tick with tweezers as close to the skin as possible and gently, but firmly, pull it straight out. Avoid any twisting or jerking motion that may break off the mouth parts in the skin. Mouth parts left in the wound may cause irritation or infection similar to a reaction from a splinter.

- If tweezers are not available, protect your fingers with gloves, tissue, or a paper towel; do not touch the tick with bare fingers. Do not squeeze or rupture the tick's swollen abdomen. This may cause an infectious agent to contaminate the bite site and cause disease.

- After the tick has been removed, wash hands with soap and water. Apply a topical antiseptic to the bite site.

- You can dispose of the tick by drowning it in alcohol or flushing it down a drain or toilet. However, it may be useful to save the tick in alcohol for several weeks and have it identified by an expert in case you become ill. Knowing what kind of tick bit you might help your doctor diagnose the illness..

- Tick removal using nail polish, petroleum jelly, alcohol or a hot match is not safe. These methods could cause the tick to regurgitate an infectious agent into the site of the bite.

LEAP Learns Online Methods to Help Students

From the digital classroom to the way to select the right college, delegates of the Loudoun Education Alliance of Parents (LEAP) learned about the online tools helping students at their November 13th meeting. Loudoun County High School English teacher Nick Grzeda showed how he used the VISION program to “flip” his classroom. He places his lectures online for home viewing and uses class time for discussions and writing projects. This model was adopted after some teacher reflection on Grzeda’s part. “Where is the maximum amount of learning going to take place? What’s going to maximize learning?”

Grzeda said using VISION means his classroom is totally transparent to both students and teachers. Lectures, assignments, class calendars, objectives and homework are all online. Grzeda also has a one-way texting program that allows him to remind students of what’s coming up in class (such as tests) the next day. “The only excuse is the dog ate my Internet.” If students don’t have Internet access, Grzeda said he loads lessons on a flash drive that can be plugged into a home computer.

Among the things Grzeda has his students doing in class are practice SAT essays. Students can get instant feedback on why their essays are (or aren’t) up to par and what weaknesses they exhibit. Practice Advanced Placement tests also are available. Grzeda now grades essays on his laptop and posts his comments in real time, so that students can get quick feedback on their work.

Loudoun County Public Schools (LCPS) School Counseling Specialist Beth Doyle and Pupil Services Coordinator Tamara Christman detailed the Naviance program, which tracks student progress and steers students toward careers or colleges where they will be successful. As freshman, students take an assessment using Naviance that’s similar to a Myers-Briggs assessment. This pinpoints areas of interest and possible careers.

Seniors can use Naviance to get a clear picture of their chances of getting into a particular college. Naviance stores the applications of everyone in a high school who has applied to a particular college or university. After a student inputs the college of their choice into Naviance, the system places them on a “scattergram,” which shows where they stand in relation to other students from their high school who have applied to that institution and where they stand in relation to that college’s admissions standards.

Heritage Principal Jeff Adam spoke with parents about CLARITY, an online system that lets parents check their student’s grades, assignments, attendance and assessments. As students move into high school, Adam said it should be the student who is the primary person using CLARITY to check their progress and make sure they’re staying on task. He added CLARITY is similar to systems colleges require students to use to keep track of their course progress. Allowing a high school student to use CLARITY will help them develop adult skills when it comes to taking responsibility for their education.

As good as the online tools LCPS offers are, Adam cautioned that they are not a substitute for parents communicating with teachers. “As educators we are certainly in the business of people.”

Meet the new LCPS Superintendent/Town Hall Meeting

WHAT IS LEAP?

The Loudoun Education Alliance of Parents (LEAP) is a non-partisan network that promotes interaction between parents, teachers, School Board members and members of the Loudoun County Public Schools Administrative Team. LEAP holds monthly meetings on the second Wednesday of the month at the LCPS Administration Building in Ashburn, Virginia.

Each program features a panel discussion on topics of interest to parents and members of the community at large, followed by a Question and Answer session and an update from LCPS Superintendent Edgar B. Hatrick III. Delegates are elected from each Loudoun County Public School's PTA, PTO or PTSO group to attend the monthly LEAP meetings.

The Minority Student Achievement Advisory Committee (MSAAC) is dedicated to work in partnership with the Loudoun County Public Schools (LCPS), parents and community to further the academic, social and cultural development of every student and to ensure that the needs of all minority students are met.

MSAAC supports School Board and staff initiatives, and parent efforts to ensure that our school community becomes culturally competent, providing the corner stone to ensure fair and equitable instruction to all LCPS students.

We encourage the development of school cultures where every minority student is afforded the opportunity to achieve his or her full potential, feels welcome and is recognized as an integral member of the student body. All meetings are held at the Loudoun County Public School Administration Building in the School Board Meeting Room.

For questions, please contact the Outreach office directly at (571) 252-1460.

Woodgrove High School Honor Code

The Woodgrove High School community strives to uphold standards of integrity, respect, cooperation, and trust; supported by interpersonal and intellectual honesty. We remind students daily to work, honor, and strive so that these core values can serve as a foundation for academic success and personal fulfillment throughout a student's life.

Woodgrove High School Honor Code is:

On My Honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid on this test, quiz, or assignment.*

All Woodgrove students will be required to view a presentation in regard to the Honor Code and to take an assessment. The assessment, along with a signed Honor Code statement, will be part of the student's academic file for reference purposes.

Cheating

Cheating includes the actual unauthorized use of any information other than one's own work and/or original thoughts. The purpose of assessments is to determine individual student mastery of the information presented. When cheating occurs, it is not a valid assessment of an individual's mastery. Examples include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Copying from another person's (s') work or allowing another person to copy his/her work or assessment.
- Talking/signing/texting during an assessment.
- Relaying assessment content to students taking the assessment at another time.
- Using study aids/notes/books/data/phones/electronic devices, etc., without the teacher's express permission to do so.

Plagiarism

Examples of plagiarism include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Presenting as your own someone else's work in all or in part.
- Copying of language structure, programming, computer code, ideas, and/or thoughts of another without proper citation or acknowledgement.
- Copying word for word without using quotation marks or giving credit to the source of the material.
- Failing to give the original source credit through documentation and bibliography.
- Having somebody else complete assignments, either partially or completely, which are then submitted as one's own work.

*Adapted from the University of Virginia Honor Code.

Falsifying/Lying

Examples of falsifying/lying include, but are not limited to the following:

- Making an untrue statement verbally or in writing.
- Forging the signature of another.
- Adding/deleting/manipulating information on academic work or assessments.
- Tampering with official records, passes, or any other administrative document.
- Lying or failing to give complete information to school personnel.

Stealing/Theft/Vandalism

Woodgrove students will respect the personal property of others. Stealing is the intentional taking of property belonging to others (including school property) without the owner's consent. This shall also include any damage to personal or school property.

Responsibilities

Students will...

- Exercise academic honesty in all aspects of their work.
- Prepare sufficiently for all types of assessments.
- Seek extra help from teachers.
- Use sources in the proper manner.
- Follow the Honor Code and report any violations to school personnel.

Teachers will...

- Develop, model, and sustain ethical practices within the classroom setting.
- Report violations to counselor and administrator.
- Discuss violations and consequences with the student or students.
- Contact student's parent or guardian regarding a violation.
- Record a failing grade for the assignment.

Parents will...

- Discuss the Honor Code with their child to ensure understanding.
- Encourage their child to maintain high standards with regard to integrity, honesty, and personal responsibility.
- Support faculty and administration in enforcing the Honor Code.

Administrators will...

- Ensure that all faculty, students, and parents receive the Honor Code.
- Help contribute to the school wide environment that encourages adherence to the Honor Code.
- Maintain accurate records of Honor Code violations.
- Ensure that the Honor Code is being applied consistently throughout the school.

Consequences:

Violations of the Honor Code accumulate throughout the student's high school career and across all courses.

First Offense (and all subsequent offenses):

- Teacher will send a written letter to the parents of the student for school documentation and communication purposes.
- Forfeiture of credit for the work ("0" for numerical scale, "F" for letter grade)
- Teacher will either make the student "redo" the mastery assignment or assign an alternative assignment to ensure student mastery of concepts. The highest grade the student can earn will be a 50%.
- Student must retrain on the plagiarism and cheating PowerPoint and retake the assessment. (Student will be retrained during lunch in the in-school restriction room until the student has passed the mastery assessment on plagiarism and cheating.)
- If the student is a member of any honor society, the administrator or director of school counseling will notify the sponsor of the society of the violation.

Second Offense

- Immediate referral to the student's administrator and director of school counseling or the individual student's counselor for information purposes and to be recorded in the student's permanent record.

- The student will be assigned one day of in-school restriction.

Third Offense and subsequent offenses:

- The administrator will immediately notify the student's parents and the student will be assigned two (2) days of in-school restriction. Alternative discipline may be assigned as well. Discipline for subsequent offenses will be administrator's discretion.
- The administrator will arrange a conference with the teacher, the counselor, the parent, the student and his/her administrator. Consequences for any additional violations of the Honor Code will be discussed at that time.
- The administrator will send a written letter to the parents of the student for school documentation and communication purposes.
- Forfeiture of credit for the work ("0" for numerical scale, "F" for letter grade)
- If the student is a member of any honor society, the administrator will notify sponsor of the society of the violation. The society will decide consequences for the member according to the by-laws of the society.

PIMS

Request Updates to Phone/Email Contact Info

The Parent Information Management System (PIMS) is an online tool that provides a convenient way for the primary parent/guardian of a student to manage changes to the phone and/or email information for the contacts in their child's record. When using PIMS you can review, at your convenience, the current contact information that exists for your child. If you need to update the current phone/email/emergency contact information, you can easily submit the update request online.

It's as Easy as:

1. Access the PIMS link from the LCPS Public Internet site. www.lcps.org. From the LCPS home screen, click on the PIMS link on the right-side under "Quick Links".
2. You will be guided through a series of screens where you will be prompted to enter some identifying information, assert your relationship to the student and then enter updated contact information.
3. Once the request has been submitted, your child's school will review the request before accepting.

Note: At this time only the parent/guardian listed as their child's First Contact will be able to request updates to phone numbers and emails for all contacts listed in their child's record, including the emergency contact. Parents may choose not to use the PIMS or may not have the means to do so. PIMS is simply a tool that will give those parents who so desire the ability to request changes to contact information online. This will not replace the hard-copy Emergency Card that is sent out to all families with requests for contact information updates — instead it is offered as a convenience in addition to the emergency card.

ABSENTEE PROCESS

When a student is absent, parents need to call the Absentee Call Line at:

540-751-2602

For EACH day the child will be absent. Students may not call themselves in absent, including students 18 years of age and older. For your convenience, this is a 24 hour answering machine. Please leave the following information when calling the Absentee line:

- Student's name-spelling the last name
- Your relationship to the student
- Student's grade
- Reason for absence

If a parent forgets to call on the day of the absence, the school will make a reasonable effort to contact you to verify the absence. If phone contact is not made, then you must send a note on the day he/she returns to school. Please provide doctor's notes every time your child sees a doctor so that we may keep them on file. This pertains to absences and tardies. Without a phone call or a note from the parent to confirm the absence, it will be considered unexcused and disciplinary action may be taken.

Specific information regarding early dismissals, tardies and other attendance information may be found on the Woodgrove High School website under: Administration >Attendance

Please direct your attendance questions to Michelle Clark, Attendance Secretary
540-751-2600 or
