Believe it or not, February is already here! With regards to the weather, what an interesting end to January we had. We have had a number of changes to our February schedule so please see our school calendar for those changes. Of significance, please note that our course selection night is now scheduled for Wednesday, February 17. Additional information for this evening is included in the Counseling section of our newsletter. Also, our first semester has been extended and will finish up on Thursday, February 4. Friday, February 5, is a student holiday/teacher workday and the second semester will begin on Monday, February 8, a “B” day.

Please note that Report Cards will be sent home on Friday, February 12.

Before moving forward into February, I do want to take a moment and reflect on several notable milestones many of our students achieved this past month. Our ninth graders are just about finished with their first semester of high school and have adapted very well to life at Woodgrove, while our seniors have but one more semester to go and the excitement for graduation grows daily as news of college acceptances and other post high school plans present themselves. In addition, this first semester offered excellent athletic and academic competitions on our fields and in our classrooms. While on our stage, superb concerts and plays were performed by our students and they were, of course, exceptional. Overall, the first semester brought many remarkable and newsworthy events at Woodgrove. With the beginning of our second semester, we expect February to bring many more positive activities and opportunities - I do encourage you to attend these events and support our students in their endeavors.

We are looking forward to an outstanding second semester and spring - best wishes to everyone and I thank you again for your support!

To our Woodgrove families and community,

This school year, new instructional initiatives from Loudoun County Public Schools are being instituted at schools throughout the district. WHS students will be participating in activities designed to support the LCPS One to the World (OTTW) initiative in all classes. The four key elements of an OTTW project are defined to include:

- Significant content and important competencies
- Authentic challenging problems in the World
- Public product for the World
- Connection with the World

The activities in which students participate will be defined by the classroom teacher, and many students have already created projects which follow these guidelines.

To support these initiatives, Loudoun County Public Schools has also made the decision to allow students to bring their personal devices to school and access the Internet using the school wireless network. This access is being provided to allow students to use their personal devices as indicated by teachers in the classroom to support instructional activities. The open wireless access for Woodgrove High School students became available on February 1, 2016. This resource allows student access to the Internet via the wireless network using their personal device. Access to the open wireless does not require a password, but students are responsible for connecting their device to the wireless network. WHS and LCPS staff will not configure personal devices.

Personal devices may include laptops, tablets, or phones and should be able to access the provided wireless network. LCPS will not make specific recommendations to device type to utilize in the classroom. The decision to bring a device is optional, and the type of the device has been left to the discretion of the parent and student. School provided devices will continue to be available for student use, and teachers will not require the use of a personal device in any class.

To support the responsible use of personal devices in the school and at home by students, all LCPS schools are required to participate in the Digital Citizenship curriculum provided by the Common Sense organization. The Common Sense organization, https://www.commonsensemedia.org/, provides resources to families and schools to help adults have conversations with children to keep them safe when using online resources. An example of the Common Sense organization Family Tip Sheet has been provided, and additional resources can be found using the URL: Curriculum Overview

At Woodgrove High School, students and staff have participated in these activities as part of our FACEtime sessions. Participation in these activities is part of the requirements to provide the open wireless to students.

For additional information on access to the open wireless at WHS, please contact the school administration, or our Technology Resource Teacher, William Hicks (William.Hicks@lcps.org). Please join us in the WHS library on February 8th, at 7:00 PM for a short presentation on the BYOT initiative and the Phoenix parent portal, ParentVUE.

Best regards,

When it comes to discussing social media, it’s important that adults and kids speak the same language. What grown-ups think of “cyberbullying” might be explained away by kids as “digital drama.” But it’s not trivial. Digital drama brews in the offline world and simmers online when kids feel emboldened to say or do things that they wouldn’t face-to-face. Checking in with kids and observing them as they interact with technology can ensure your conversations are productive and helpful.

- Ask how they are ... then ask again.

  It may seem simple, but ask your kids how they are doing on a daily basis. Also, watch for telltale signs that they are suffering from digital drama — a change in mood or behavior — as your kids interact with their phone and other devices. They may be absorbing subtle social messages in not-so-healthy ways. Ask lots of questions to determine how your kids view media and interact with technology. What are their favorite tools? Why do they value technology? What are some benefits as well as pitfalls of our 24/7 world?

- Hit the pause button.

  If your child is on the receiving end of someone else’s hurtful online behavior, encourage him to “take it offline.” It may be tempting to continue the conversation online; however, face-to-face can be more constructive. The lack of body language, facial expressions, and tone with online communication easily can lead to misunderstandings. Encourage kids to “walk in another’s shoes” to make sure that they are considering all perspectives. At the very least, “taking it offline” will give your child time to process how to act — rather than just react.

- Read between the lines.

  With the popularity of photo sharing, kids often receive evidence that they were not included ... which then leads to feelings of exclusion. Imagine your child seeing a photo of friends at dinner and realizing that she was not invited. While it is true that no one is included in everything, it is a hard rite of passage for kids to learn — and often they just need a sympathetic ear or an alternative social activity. Unfortunately, some kids use online photos to intentionally tag the kids who weren’t invited — a not-so-subtle message of exclusion. In these cases, let your children know that they are supported, and talk about strategies to mend a rift or dispel a fight.
FREE LITTLE LIBRARY

The WHS library has a “Free Little Library” available to students and staff. The motto is, “Need a Book? Take a Book. Read a Book? Leave a Book.” While books are being taken, not many are being put on the shelf. We are looking for book donations (used books) appropriate for young adults and adults to replenish our free library.

Thank you in advance for your donation.

McDowell’s Super Stars

Arianna Larson, a junior in the Personal Finance classes here at Woodgrove, was chosen to attend the Math X Economics workshop sponsored by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System in Washington, DC in December. The goal of the program was to introduce students to economics as a potential course of study in college, and as a future career option.

The workshop included a panel discussion of economists that work at the Federal Reserve, who shared experiences that brought them to economics and their careers. The students participated in an interactive game of supply and demand and participated in a presentation about money. Arianna came back with $100.00 bag of shredded money.

Forty students from the Washington area participated. Arianna said the experience showed her career options that she hadn’t thought about.

Arianna is the daughter of Peter and Kristi Larson of Purcellville.
Woodgrove's Global Ambassador's Club wants to make the Woodgrove family aware of our club and all of the exciting news that we have.

In April, we are hosting 20 students from Hungary and 4 students from China in the Loudoun International Youth Leadership Summit. This is a Loudoun Summit that is gathering students from over 20 international schools around the world to create a "Real World U.N."! Students will research hot foreign relations topics and then discuss them with each other in dialogue meetings. Some of these topics include migration, access to education, and human rights. The students will also participate in field trips around Virginia and D.C. while they are here to experience highlights of American history.

Also, we have the amazing fortune to welcome former Secretary of State Madeleine Albright to our school so that she may speak to our students and the entire foreign delegation of International Students.

All of this costs money. We are in the process of trying to raise funds. We are hoping that you may help us to meet our goal of $4,000.00. Please take a look at the events we have planned and consider helping us out:

1. Silent Auction: February 17th at Woodgrove before the Course Information Night. Please consider donating an item for auction or coming to bid on an auction.
2. Chick-Fil-A Woodgrove Night... All you need to do is go to Chick-Fil-A with a flyer and we get part of the proceeds! (date pending.. we will update you in March)
3. Buffalo Wild Wings Woodgrove Night in Leesburg. All you need to do is go to BWW with a flyer and we get part of the proceeds! (March 17)
4. Simply donate money! It's our first year so we could use any help at all!

INFORMATION ABOUT NOROVIRUS FOR PARENTS

At this time of the year, families are seeing an increase in gastroenteritis which is an inflammation of the stomach, small intestine, and large intestines. Although it may have many causes, the most frequent one appears to be “Norovirus”. The following information from the Virginia Department of Health may prove helpful in understanding it.

WHAT ARE NOROVIRUSES?

Norovirus is a virus that causes the “stomach flu”, or vomiting and diarrhea, in people. This can sometimes be confusing because influenza (flu) symptoms include: headache, muscle aches and pains, cough, fever > 100.0, but influenza does not involve the gastrointestinal tract. The term “stomach flu” presumes a viral infection, even though there may be other causes of the infection. Viral infections are the most common cause of gastroenteritis but bacteria, parasites, and food-borne illnesses (such as shellfish) can also be the offending agents.

WHAT ARE THE SYMPTOMS OF ILLNESS CAUSED BY NOROVIRUSES?

Norovirus illness usually begins 24-48 hours after exposure, but can appear as early as 10 hours after exposure. Symptoms usually include nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, and stomach cramping. Sometimes there may be a low-grade fever, chills, headache, muscle aches, and a general sense of tiredness. The illness is usually brief, with symptoms lasting only 1-2 days.

HOW SERIOUS IS THE NOROVIRUS?

Norovirus disease is usually not serious, but people may feel very sick. Most people get better within 1-2 days, and have no long-term health effects from the illness. Sometimes individuals are unable to drink enough liquids to replace what they have lost through vomiting and diarrhea, and they can become dehydrated and need to see a doctor. This problem usually occurs only among the very young, the elderly, and persons with weakened immune systems.

HOW IS IT SPREAD?

Noroviruses are very contagious and spread from person to person. The virus is found in the stool, and vomit of infected people. One can become infected in several ways, including eating food or drinking liquids that are contaminated by infected food handlers, touching surfaces or objects contaminated with norovirus and then touching their mouth before handwashing, or having direct contact with another person who is infected and then touching their mouth before hand washing. Outbreaks also have occurred from eating undercooked oysters (shellfish) harvested from contaminated waters- cooking kills the virus. Drinking water contaminated by sewage can also be a source of these viruses. Persons working in day-care facilities or nursing homes should pay special attention to children or residents who have norovirus illnesses. This virus can spread quickly in these places.
HOW LONG ARE PEOPLE CONTAGIOUS?

Individuals infected with norovirus are contagious from the moment they begin feeling ill to at least 3 days after recovery. Some people may be contagious for as long as 2 weeks after recovery. Therefore, good handwashing is important. Persons infected with norovirus should not prepare food while they have symptoms and for 3 days after they recover. Infected people do not become long-term carriers of norovirus.

WHO GETS NOROVIRUS INFECTION?

Anyone can become infected with these viruses. Because there are many different strains of norovirus, norovirus infection and illness can re-occur throughout a person’s lifetime.

WHAT IS THE TREATMENT?

Currently, there is no specific medication or vaccine for norovirus. Norovirus infection cannot be treated with antibiotics. By drinking fluids, such as water or juice, individuals can reduce their chance of becoming dehydrated. Sports drinks do not replace the nutrients and minerals lost during this illness.

DO INFECTED INDIVIDUALS NEED TO BE EXCLUDED FROM SCHOOL, WORK OR DAYCARE?

Since the virus is passed in vomit and bowel movements, students should not go to school and children to daycare while they have diarrhea or vomiting. Once the illness ends, they can return, but handwashing is essential. Persons who work in nursing homes, take care of patients, or handle food should stay out of work until at least 3 days after symptoms end.

CAN NOROVIRUS INFECTIONS BE PREVENTED?

You can decrease your chance of coming in contact with noroviruses by:

*frequent hand washing with warm water and soap
*promptly disinfecting contaminated surfaces with household chlorine bleach-based cleaners
*washing soiled clothing and linens
*proper hand washing following a bowel movement or handling a soiled diaper *avoiding food or water from sources that may be contaminated
* cooking oysters (shellfish) completely to kill the virus

As always, if you have any questions or would like to discuss a health concern of your child, please give me a call at 540-751-2606 (clinic).

Sports Injuries

Carpal Tunnel Syndrome

Carpal Tunnel Syndrome (CTS) is a common problem affecting individuals who perform strenuous and repetitive hand and wrist motions. CTS is a compression of the median nerve, which runs from the forearm to the hand through a narrow gap in the wrist called the carpal tunnel. CTS is progressive, so symptoms can gradually increase over time. Symptoms of CTS include numbness, tingling, burning and weakness in the hand, and a dull ache in the wrist and forearm that often worsen at night. Sports like golf, rowing, swimming and most racquet sports have a higher risk of developing CTS.

As with the rest of your body, it is important to warm up the wrist and hand before engaging in strenuous activity. Although there is no proven strategy to prevent CTS, there are a few precautions that may help to minimize the stress on your hands and wrists:

- If you play racquet sports, relax your grip and use less force. Also, try a larger grip with more padding to reduce stress and shock to your hand and wrist.

- Watch your form. Try to keep your wrists in a neutral and straight position. Avoid keeping the hand bent forward, as this tends to pinch the carpal tunnel.

- Watch your posture. When your shoulders are rounded forward and your neck and shoulder muscles are shortened, it compresses the nerves in your neck. This can affect the nerves all the way down to your fingers.

There are various methods to treat CTS. The most common is wearing a wrist brace or splint to rest the wrist and keep it in a neutral position especially when you sleep at night. Worst cases may involve surgery to release the carpal tunnel. CTS is a problem that should not be ignored because it will often become worse and progress to the point where surgery becomes necessary.
Illness

Mononucleosis

Mononucleosis (Mono) is an acute medical condition commonly encountered in active adolescents and very young adults. Although, Mono is self-limiting and rarely requires more than symptomatic management, it poses a consistent challenge for the medical professional with regard to safe return of the athlete to competitive sports.

Mono results from an infection caused by the Epstein-Barr virus which typically enters the body through mouth and nose secretions and infects B lymphocytes. Initially patients experience a 3-5 day period of headache and tiredness that is then followed by 5-15 days of prominent fatigue, sore throat, tonsillar enlargement, fever and swollen lymph nodes. An enlarged spleen may develop in more than 50% of patients. Although it is variable, the total time to recovery is 4-6 weeks.

Testing to confirm Mono can be a challenge. The most widely employed test is the monospot test. However, as many as 10-15% of patients will have a false-negative or a false-positive result. For athletes in general and particularly those in contact/collision sports, the single most important complication to be considered is a splenic rupture.

The risk for splenic rupture is highest in the second and third weeks of the illness. For athletes it is this clinical feature that usually mandates a 21 day disqualification period from sport activities. Consequently, many athletes who appear to have normal spleens in clinical exams do indeed have enlarged spleens, which can be injured.

After the 3 week rest period, the athlete may begin a gradual return to low impact, non-contact training at 50% intensity for one week. Then usually at 4 weeks they can return to full participation, even contact sports.

ATTENTION: STUDENTS, PARENTS, FACULTY & STAFF

Loudoun County Public Schools’ Insurance Does Not Provide Coverage for Students’ and Employees’ Personal Property Brought to School.

Each year the LCPS Procurement/Risk Management Office receives claims where school students and employees have lost valuable personal property brought to school. Every type of personal property is subject to loss by accident, theft, or vandalism.

Examples of personal property include:

   iPods, iPads, cell phones, cameras, tablets, lap top computers, etc.

The Worth Avenue Group has been providing insurance programs to thousands of students and staff across the country since 1971. Their personal property insurance plans have been utilized by many colleges and universities and have been made available to public school students, faculty, and staff nationwide.

Losses Covered: The plans cover loss or damage, occurring during the policy period, to personal property, which you own or have leased. See policy for items excluded from coverage. Coverage may be purchased on a “cash value or replacement cost” basis with a deductible as low as $50 per occurrence.

What about Coverage Under Your Homeowners Policy? If you have questions about your homeowner's policy, ask your agent to go to the Worth Avenue Group website for more information and then to give you advice. These plans are typically primary to the homeowner's coverage and can be used to cover high insurance deductibles.

For further information on this coverage please call 1-800-620-2885 or visit http://www.worthavegroup.com/ and read about the various available coverages.

El plan de seguro de propiedad personal ha sido utilizado por muchas escuelas y universidades. Recientemente ha sido disponible para los estudiantes de las escuelas públicas a nivel nacional.

Cobertura de pérdidas: El Plan cubre pérdidas o daños a su propiedad personal, de la cual usted es dueño o alquilo, incluyendo materiales de valor en su poder, estas pérdidas deben ser durante el periodo vigente de la póliza. Verifique los artículos excluidos en su cobertura. El seguro podría ser comprado en base de "dinero en efectivo" o "a costo de reemplazo" de la propiedad personal y con un deducible tan bajo como $50 por caso.

Y Qué Sobre la Cobertura Dentro de la Póliza de Seguros del Hogar? Si usted tiene preguntas acerca de lo que cubre su seguro del hogar, enséílele el folleto a su agente de seguros y pídale su consejo.
