Memo from our Principal

ERMS Parents,

A few things to know as we enter 2nd quarter:

We no longer print quarterly report cards as grades are visible daily in Parent/StudentVue. On Wed, Nov 15th, a report card tab became visible so that you may view or print the first quarter report card. If you would still like us to send you a paper copy, please contact your child's grade level house office. We will print and mail the final report card in June for your records.

We recognize our Honor Roll students in 3 ways - first, we hold "All A" Honor Roll assemblies for students and parents. This quarter those will be held at 9 am on Thurs, Nov 30th for 6th grade, and at 9 am for 7th and 10:15 am for 8th grade on Fri, Dec 1st. These will be held in the auditorium and generally last about 30-45 minutes. A/B Honor Roll students are recognized by their Deans and Counselors during school the following week. Unfortunately, parents cannot attend A/B Honor Roll as we are a large school with many great scholars. Next, we place our honor roll lists in our newsletter, and post them in the grade level houses for the quarter.

Winter break begins Dec 16th and extends through Jan 1st. Students return to classes on Tuesday, Jan 2nd.

Family Vacations: For any absence longer than 5 school days involving a family trip, it is our practice to excuse the first five days. For these days, teachers will provide work in advance. Any days beyond five should include an email to the principal and are unexcused absences, which means that the student will need to source school work via teacher websites, email, etc. Of course, there may be activities that we cannot duplicate outside the classroom that may not be able to be made up – these are at teacher discretion. Any work that is not completed during the trip will need to be made up promptly upon return. We copy our attendance officer so she may be aware, and parents can request work from teachers a week before the trip.

We hope you have a great holiday season, and please check our website calendar for concerts and performances that you can attend.

Scott F. Phillips

Principal

Common Sense on Digital Life

What's the Issue?

We may think of our kids' online, mobile, and technological activities as "digital life," but to them, it's just part of life. Their world is as much about creating media as it is about consuming it. Media devices have converged and become extremely powerful and portable. Phones aren't simply for phone calls anymore but for listening to music, sending texts, filming videos, snapping and sharing photos, and accessing the Internet. Our kids use their computers to do their homework, but they also use them to socialize, stream video, and create movies and songs. And they can connect and communicate 24/7 from just about any location.

Why Does It Matter?

We want our kids to make good decisions so they can take advantage of the powerful technology that fills their lives. In order to make good choices, kids must know how the digital world works. The very nature of the constantly connected culture means kids must understand the concept of privacy, so that what they post and create won't hurt or embarrass them at some point in the future. The fact that much of digital communication is anonymous means that consequences that might seem obvious in face to face interactions may not be as clear online. Much of the task of childhood and adolescence involves figuring out who you are. But in digital life, anything said or posted can live on indefinitely and create undesired consequences.

The stakes are high because our kids' technological abilities can be greater than their maturity and judgment. Having unrestricted access to information and people can result in gaining a wealth of information and experiences. But it can also mean accessing inappropriate contact and content. The difference between a great experience and an iffy one lies in the decisions kids make. Just as kids learn to eat properly, swim safely, or drive a car carefully, they need to know how to live in the digital world responsibly and respectfully. Their ultimate success depends on their abilities to use digital media to create, collaborate, and communicate well with others. Those who master these skills in using digital tools will be able to harness the digital world's awesome power.

common sense says

Teach kids the skills they need to use technology wisely and well. It's hard to be a gatekeeper in a world with no fences. Parents have little control over the flow of information to their kids, who see too much, too soon. We no longer hear conversations or see what our kids create and share with others. Since we cannot cover their eyes, or shadow them everywhere they go, we need to teach them how to behave responsibly in the digital world.

Keep an open mind. We don't see the world the way our kids do. And we don't help our kids when we judge their lives through the lens of a non-digital world. It's important for us to understand that our kids will spend much of their lives in a connected world, where everyone creates and communicates.

Don't be afraid. Parents can't afford to be technophobic. Our kids adopt technologies faster than we do. That means they're often way out in front of us. This fact can upset the parent-child relationship. So get in the game. Have your kids show you how to do something online if you don't already know.

Share wisdom. Kids often don't understand the implications of their actions. But we do. So we have to remember to extend our basic parenting wisdom to the digital world. We teach kids to choose their words

FAMILY MEDIA AGREEMENT: K-5

I WILL ...

stay safe.

- I will not give out any private information, such as my full name, date of birth, address, or phone number, without my family's permission.
- I will keep my passwords private and only share them with my family.
- I will tell a trusted adult if anyone online makes me feel uncomfortable, sad, or unsafe. I will recognize that my safety is more important to my family than anything else.
- _____

think first.

- I will communicate kindly when I use the Internet or my cell phone. I will not tease, embarrass, or bully others.
- I know that the Internet is public, and I will respect myself and others when I'm using it.
- I will not pretend that I created something that's not actually my own work.

stay balanced.

- I know that not everything I read, hear, or see online is true.
- I will respect my family's decisions for what I'm allowed to watch, play with, or listen to, and when.
- I will continue to enjoy the other activities – and people – in my life.

In exchange, my family agrees to ...

- recognize that media is a big part of my life, even if they don't always understand why.
- talk with me about what worries them and why, before saying "no."
- talk to me about my interests and help me find stuff that's appropriate and fun.

FAMILY MEDIA AGREEMENT: 6-8

I WILL ...

stay safe.

- I will not create accounts or give out any private information – such as my full name, date of birth, address, phone number, or photos – without my family’s permission.
- I will not share my passwords with anyone other than my family. I will ask my family to help me with privacy settings if I want to set up devices, accounts, or profiles.
- If anyone makes me feel pressured or uncomfortable, or acts inappropriately toward me online, I’ll stop talking to that person and will tell a friend or family member I trust about it.
- _____

think first.

- I will not bully, humiliate, or upset anyone online or with my phone – whether through sharing photos, videos, or screenshots, spreading rumors or gossip, or setting up fake profiles – and I will stand up to those who do.
- I know that whatever I share online or with my cell phone can spread fast and far. I will not post anything online that could harm my reputation.
- Whenever I use, reference, or share someone else’s creative work online, I will give proper credit to the author or artist.

stay balanced.

- I know that not everything I read, hear, or see online is true. I will consider whether a source or author is credible.
- I will help my family set media time limits that make sense, and then I will follow them.
- I will be mindful of how much time I spend in front of screens, and I will continue to enjoy the other activities – and people – in my life.

In exchange, my family agrees to ...

- recognize that media is a big part of my life, even if they don't always understand why.
- talk with me about what worries them and why, before saying "no."
- talk to me about my interests and embrace my world, including helping me find media that's appropriate and fun.

FAMILY MEDIA AGREEMENT: 9-12

I WILL ...

stay safe.

- I know that there are scams online that I can avoid. Therefore, unless I am filling out a trusted form with my family's permission, I will not give out my private or financial information.
- I will read the privacy policies of any social network sites or apps that I want to use, and I will pay attention to the types of information these companies can collect about me.
- I know that I have a choice in the kinds of relationships I have online. I will stop talking to anyone who makes me feel pressured or uncomfortable, or acts inappropriately toward me.
- _____

think first.

- I will model kind behavior online. I will not bully, humiliate, or upset anyone online or with my phone – whether through sharing photos, videos, or screenshots, spreading rumors or gossip, or setting up fake profiles – and I will stand up to those who do.
- I know that the photos and videos I post, and everything that I write about myself and others online, can be saved and shared without my knowing. Therefore, I will not post anything online that I wouldn't want my family, teachers, college admissions officers, or future employers to see.
- When I use, reference, or share someone else's creative work online, I will give proper credit to the author or artist. I also know that I have a right to receive credit for any original work that I share online.
- _____

stay balanced.

- I know that not everything I read, hear, or see online is true. I will consider whether a source is credible. As an author, I will also contribute information thoughtfully and honestly.
- I will be open with my family about how I spend my time with media and show them that I use it responsibly.
- I will be mindful of how much time I spend in front of screens, and I will continue to enjoy the other activities – and people – in my life.
- _____

In exchange, my family agrees to ...

- recognize that media is a big part of my life, even if they don't always understand why.
- talk with me about what worries them and why, before saying "no."
- talk to me about my interests and embrace my world, including helping me find media that's appropriate and fun.
- let me make some mistakes and help me learn from them.
- respect my privacy and talk to me if they have concerns.
