Letter from the Assistant Director

The cornerstone of our democracy is a free and open society where citizens can enjoy a wide range of activities without fear of harm. People across the U.S should expect that they will be safe and secure as they cheer on a favorite team at a sporting event, shop at a mall, attend a house of worship, go to school, dine out with family and friends, or go to a concert.

The Department of Homeland Security's Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency (CISA) works closely with public and private sector stakeholders to mitigate risk to our infrastructure. This mission includes working to secure soft targets and crowded places in partnership with our stakeholders.

Soft targets and crowded places—a term more recently used—are typically defined as locations or environments that are easily accessible, attract large numbers of people on a predictable or semi-predictable basis, and may be vulnerable to attacks using simple tactics and readily available weapons. CISA works with stakeholders to increase security and reduce the risk of a successful attack—or, for those that do occur, limit the impacts to life and property.

The "Security of Soft Targets and Crowded Places - Resource Guide" is a key tool to our efforts to raise awareness of the capabilities that are available to support risk mitigation. The Guide provides an easy to use method to quickly find information on a wide range of free capabilities that can be incorporated into the security practices of organizations of all sizes. I strongly encourage you to consider these capabilities as part of your risk mitigation strategy.

As CISA's Assistant Director for Infrastructure Security, I assure you that we continue to work diligently to identify innovative means through which we can collectively mitigate the risks we face as a nation generally, and those posed by terrorists and other violent extremist actors to soft targets and crowded places specifically. Thank you for your partnership and commitment to securing our nation.

Sincerely,

Brian Harrell
Assistant Director for Infrastructure Security

1 Resource Matrix

Segments of our society are inherently open to the general public, and by nature of their purpose do not incorporate strict security measures. Given the increased emphasis by terrorists and other extremist actors to leverage less sophisticated methods to inflict harm in public areas, it is vital that the public and private sectors collaborate to enhance security of locations such as transportation centers, parks, restaurants, shopping centers, special event venues, and similar facilities. Securing these locations is essential to preserving our way of life and sustaining the engine of our economy. The Infrastructure Security Division (ISD), part of the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency (CISA), is committed to improving the security and resilience of soft targets by providing relevant tools, training, and programs to both the public and private sectors, and the general public. This guide is a catalog of ISD soft target resources, many of which were created in collaboration with our partners to ensure they are useful and reflective of the dynamic environment we live in.

The guide includes IED risk information, a framework of 10 common C-IED preparedness goals, planning considerations, and available federal resources. The guide is complemented by four annexes with additional information relevant to venues at high risk of IED-related incidents: lodging, outdoor events, public assembly, and sports leagues and venues.
Connect with CISA
This section lists ways that businesses; first responders; and state, local, tribal, and territorial governments can access not only the resources listed in this guide, but additional resources available through CISA. These resources can help identify the tools, resources, and training that are right for each facility and its risks.

National Infrastructure Coordinating Center (NICC)
Serves as the dedicated 24/7 coordination and information sharing operations center that maintains situational awareness of the Nation’s critical infrastructure. For more information, please email NICC@hq.dhs.gov.

Regional Offices
Engage with state, local, tribal, and territorial (SLTT) government partners, businesses, and critical infrastructure owners and operators in their regions to provide access to steady-state DHS risk-mitigation tools, products, and services, such as training and voluntary vulnerability assessment programs.

The 10 Regional Offices also support National Special Security Events (NSSEs) and Special Event Assessment Rating (SEAR) events; support response to all-hazard incidents through field-level coordination and information sharing; and provide expertise on reconstituting affected critical infrastructure.

Homeland Security Information Network – Critical Infrastructure (HSIN-CI)
Serves as the primary information-sharing platform between the critical infrastructure sector stakeholders and government. HSIN-CI enables federal, state, local, and private sector critical infrastructure owners and operators to communicate, coordinate, and share sensitive and sector-relevant information to protect their critical assets, systems, functions, and networks at no charge to sector stakeholders. To request access to HSIN-CI, please contact hsinci@hq.dhs.gov.

Assist Visits and the Infrastructure Survey Tool
Informs critical infrastructure owners and operators of the importance of their facilities, how they fit into the broader critical infrastructure sector, and provides an overview of the CISA resources available to help enhance security and resilience. The visits, conducted by PSAs with critical infrastructure facility representatives, help build relationships and increase communications. One of the CISA resources available to facility owners and operators is the Infrastructure Survey Tool (IST).
