ADVANCED PLACEMENT TESTING

- Loudoun County Public Schools will offer AP tests during the College Board's 2022 test administration window May 2-20, 2022.

Enrolled LCPS students and Loudoun residents who are home instructed and have a current Notice of Intent (NOI) on file with LCPS may register to test.

- Students will test at school, in person, using a paper test - except for AP Chinese and AP Japanese tests, which will be administered at school, in person, using a computer.
- Registration for testing will occur through a student’s AP course. The AP teacher will provide students with a join code which they must use to access an online portal (MyAP). The portal contains instructional resources, practice tests, and tools to manage test registration.
- Students must have a current College Board account or must create one prior to using the join code. It is important that students retain their user name and password, as well as use their full legal name during the account registration process.
- Students must register for their AP test(s) by November 5, 2021, by indicating their choice on a google survey that will be sent to the students in September from Mrs. Johnson, School Test Coordinator, LVHS.
- Requests to register for an AP test after November 5, if accepted, may result in a $40 fee. Students who register to test but do not do so may incur a $40 unused test fee.
- Beginning with the 2021-2022 school year, LCPS will pay for the first 4 AP tests that each enrolled LCPS student attempts. The 4 tests are cumulative across the student’s high school enrollment with payment required after the limit has been reached.
- Note that LCPS schools are closed on May 3 for a student/staff holiday, so students wishing to take the AP Environmental Science and/or AP Psychology tests will need to test during the late window - Tuesday, May 17.
