Subject-Verb Agreement – Prepositional Phrases

A prepositional phrase can sometimes complicate subject-verb agreement.

A prepositional phrase is composed of:

- a preposition followed by a noun or pronoun object

Examples of Prepositional Phrases:

- of the car
- at the brown house
- about him
- over that last big hill
- to a sweet someone

Here is a list of frequently used prepositions:

A prepositional phrase may be placed between the subject and verb.

The boy (at the door) is my brother.

The subject (boy) is singular, so the verb (is) needs to be singular as well. In the above example, the singular verb is agrees with the singular subject boy. Sometimes, however, a prepositional phrase inserted between the subject and verb makes agreement more difficult.

The car (with many riders) was my speeding around the curve.

The subject (car) is singular, so the verb (was) needs to be singular as well.

If we aren’t careful, however, we may mistakenly label riders as the subject since it is nearer to the verb than car is. If we choose the plural noun, riders, we will incorrectly select the plural verb were.

Solution to the Prepositional Phrase Problem

1. Learn the major prepositions (see page 28).
2. Be alert for prepositional phrases placed between the subject and verb, and identify the noun in the phrase immediately as the object of a preposition: An object of a preposition can NEVER be a sentence subject.
3. Locate the true sentence subject and choose a verb which agrees with it.
4. Remember the indefinite pronoun EXCEPTIONS: Some, Any, None, All, and Most. The number of these subject words is affected by a prepositional phrase between the subject and verb.
