

Websites for Spanish Food Project

Wright/February 2017

The following websites are specifically for Spanish Food recipes.

La Tienda Website - <https://www.tienda.com/recipes/>

Website for retail store with hundreds of recipes in searchable categories such as type of meal, occasion, diet, ingredients, etc.

Access Mexico Connect Magazine www.mexconnect.com

Monthly online magazine featuring articles on food, culture, customs and celebrations of modern Mexico. Click on “Cuisine” along the menu bar.

Lo Mexico www.lomexicano.com

Cookbook author Jim Peyton discusses Mexican food and cooking. Includes recipes.

Hispanic Kitchen www.hispanickitchen.com

Miami-based online food forum for Central and South American cooking. They also have Facebook and Pinterest sites that are easy to manage and find recipes. Search by Category at the top of the page to see recipes organized by meal, course, and main ingredients.

Spanish Sabores <http://spanishsabores.com/>

Food and travel blog by the owner of the Devour Spain food tour company. Click on the link for “Recipes.”

BBC GoodFood website <http://www.bbcgoodfood.com/howto/guide/top-10-foods-try-mexico>

Offers a top-ten foods of Mexico list with recipe links

PBS Food <http://www.pbs.org/food/cuisine/spanish/page/2/>

Search by Spanish food

General Cooking Websites for recipes, cooking information, and links to tips:

Foodnetwork:100 best tips Epicurious : Cooking Advice

Bonappetit

allrecipes.com – recipes & cooking basics tips; search for Spanish recipes

Cookbooks:

We also have many cookbooks and books about holidays and festivals that contain information about the background information for your dish. These will be pulled for you when your class visits the library. You can locate them at other times by using a keyword search in the online catalog. If you find a recipe you like, we can copy it for you in the library.

Video Tips:

For video help, please see the information provided by Mrs. Rounsley, the TRT. It is imperative that you finish or render your video file so that it can be viewed by others. The best ways to do this is to upload your video to Vimeo and/or YouTube several days before it is due.

5 Tips for School Video Projects

Video and Audio Block – music and stock video/pictures that are fair use for your projects. Link works at school only.

Login Information

Click LOGIN on top right and use login with Office 365

Login in with your network password.

Student Username: StudentID#@student.lcps.org

Student Password: network Password

