

Doug Mesecar Bio & Headshot

Doug ranks among the small number of education consultants who have worked as an education policymaker, entrepreneur, and executive in the private sector. He has built a track record of success with deep knowledge about what drives the K-12 market, from the economic buyer to the everyday user. A former teacher, Doug served at the U.S. Department of Education as Deputy Chief of Staff for the Department and Assistant Deputy Secretary of the Office of Innovation and Improvement. He also served in the U.S. Congress as a professional staff member for the House Education and Workforce Committee. He held senior executive positions for companies serving the K-12 market, including IO Education, Sylvan Learning, Scholastic Education, and Edison Schools. Doug is the founder of AdeptioEducation, a boutique consultancy serving education-focused clients of all sizes and types.
