How did the native peoples and the English interact? (VS.3g)

Captain John Smith initiated trading relationships with the native peoples.

Why did the relationship between the Jamestown settlers and the native peoples change? (VS.2a)

The native peoples contributed to the survival of the Jamestown settlers by:
- Powhatan, chief of many tribes, provided leadership to his people and taught the settlers survival skills.
- Pocahontas, daughter of Powhatan, served as a contact between the native peoples and the English.
- The native peoples showed the settlers how to plant corn and harvest tobacco.

Over time, the native peoples realized the English settlement would continue to grow. The native peoples came to see the settlers as invaders who would take over their land.

Fall Line (VS.2b)

The natural border between the Coastal Plain (Tidewater) and Piedmont Regions, where waterfall prevented further travel on the river.

Lake Drummond (VS.2c)

Located in the Coastal Plain (Tidewater) region; Shallow natural lake surrounded by the Dismal Swamp.

Dismal Swamp (VS.2c)

Located in the Coastal Plain (Tidewater) region; Variety of wildlife. George Washington explored and surveyed the Dismal Swamp.

FIVE GEOGRAPHIC REGIONS OF VIRGINIA (VS.2b, VS.10b)

Coastal Plain (Tidewater): flat land located near Atlantic Ocean and Chesapeake Bay (includes the Eastern Shore); east of the Fall Line.

Piedmont: land at the foot of mountains; rolling hills west of the Fall Line.

Blue Ridge Mountains: old, rounded mountains that are part of Appalachian Mountain system. They are located between the Piedmont and Valley and Ridge regions and are a source of many rivers.

Valley and Ridge: includes the Great Valley of Virginia and other valleys separated by ridges. (The Blue Ridge Mountains and the Valley and Ridge Regions are part of the Appalachian Mountain system.) They are located west of the Blue Ridge Mountains.

Appalachian Plateau: (area of elevated land that is flat on top); located in Southwest Virginia; only a small part of plateau is located in Virginia.

Top products and services for Virginia include architectural or engineering services, banking and lending, computer programming or system design, food products, shipbuilding.

The service industry is important to Virginia's economy. Virginians earn income through jobs in private health care, computer programming or systems design and engineering, and government services including operation of public schools, hospitals, and military bases.

Manufacturing is also a top industry. Top manufactured products include ships, tobacco products, beverages, chemical goods, and motor vehicle parts and trucks.

Fertile soil and a favorable climate make agriculture an important industry. Leading livestock products include chickens, cows, milk, turkeys, and hogs. Soybeans, tobacco, tomatoes, apples and peanuts are current cash crops.

Tobacco once the basis for Virginia's economy has been replaced by livestock and livestock products as the most valuable source of agricultural income.

Access to deepwater ports and proximity to the Chesapeake Bay and the Atlantic Ocean make shipbuilding, fishing, crabbing, and oyster harvesting possible.

Historically, the success of the Appalachian coalfields was due to the expansion of railroads that transport coal to piers in the Tidewater for shipment to both domestic and international markets.

Today coal is less crucial to Virginia's economy as businesses and individuals shift to other sources of energy.

What is a peninsula? (VS.2c)

- A peninsula is a piece of land bordered by water on three sides.

The Eastern Shore is a peninsula bordered by the Chesapeake Bay to the west and the Atlantic Ocean to the east.

The Chesapeake Bay separates the Eastern Shore from the mainland of Virginia.

The four major rivers that flow into the Chesapeake Bay are separated by peninsulas.

Which river was a source of food and provided a pathway for exploration and settlement? (VS.2a)

- James River
  - Flows into the Chesapeake Bay
  - Richmond and Jamestown are located along the James River.

- York River
  - Flows into the Chesapeake Bay
  - Yorktown is located along the York River.

Many early Virginia cities developed along the Fall Line, the natural border between the Coastal Plain (Tidewater) and Piedmont regions where the land rises sharply and where the waterfalls prevent further travel on the river.

Each river was a source of food and provided a pathway for exploration and settlement.

Which water features were important to the early history of Virginia? (VS.2c)

- Potomac River
  - Flows into the Chesapeake Bay
  - Alexandria is located along Potomac River

- Rappahannock River
  - Flows into the Chesapeake Bay
  - Fredericksburg is located on Rappahannock River.

Relative Location (VS.2a)

Location of places can be described in relative terms. Relative location may be described using terms that show connections between two places such as, “next to,” “near,” and “bordering.”

What states border Virginia? (VS.2c)

Atlantic Ocean (VS.2c)

Provided transportation links between Virginia and other places (e.g., Europe, Africa, and the Caribbean)

Chesapeake Bay (VS.2c)

Provided a safe harbor and was a source of food and transportation.

Virginia Standards of Learning (2008), Rebecca Mills, Supervisor of Social Studies, Spotsylvania County Schools Updated by Kellie Regan for 2015 SOL Standards
Christopher Columbus called the people he found in the lands he explored “Indians” because he thought they were in the Indies (near China).

Artifacts such as arrowheads, pottery, and other tools that have been found tell a lot about the people who lived in Virginia. There is evidence that American Indians lived in all areas of the state. American Indians have always been closely connected to the land. They did not believe in land ownership.

Virginia’s American Indians worked with the environment and the climate to meet their basic needs. Virginia Indian cultures have changed over time. (VS.2e)

Environmental Connections:
• Forests, which had a variety of trees, cover most of the land. Virginia’s Indians are referred to as Eastern Woodland Indians.
• Animal skins (deerskin) were used for clothing.
• Shelter was made from materials around them.
• The kinds of food they ate, the clothing they wore, and the shelters they had depended upon the seasons.

The climate in Virginia is relatively mild with distinct seasons - spring, summer, fall, and winter - resulting in a variety of vegetation. (VS.2e)

Winter
• hunted birds and animals and lived on stored foods from the previous fall

Spring
• hunted, fished, and picked berries

Summer
• grew crops (beans, corn, squash)

Fall
• harvested crops and hunted for foods to preserve and keep for the winter

Today, most native peoples live like other Americans. Virginia Indian cultures have changed over time.

Why is archaeology important? (VS.2f)
Archaeology is another way that helps people understand the past. Archaeologists study all kinds of material evidence left from people of the past. Findings change the understanding of history. Recent archaeological digs have recovered new material evidence about Werowocomoco and historic Jamestown.

What was Werowocomoco?
Werowocomoco was a large Indian town, located on the York River, used by Indian leaders for several hundred years before the English settlers came. It was the headquarters of the leader, Powhatan, in 1607.

What was Jamestown?
Jamestown became the first permanent English settlement in North America. Archaeologists have discovered the site of the original fort. The recovered artifacts give archaeologists clues about the interactions of English, Africans, and Indians in Virginia.

Why did the settlers choose the site at Jamestown? (VS.3b)
• Instructions told the settlers to go inland and find a suitable place for their colony.
• The location could easily be defended from Spanish attack by sea.
• The water along the shore was deep enough for ships to dock.
• They believed they had a good supply of fresh water.

Natural resources from Jamestown included timber and iron.

Importance of the Virginia charters (VS.3c)
The King of England granted charters to the Virginia company of London to:
• Establish a settlement in North America
• Define the physical boundaries of the colony
• Extend English rights to the settlers

American Indians, who trace their family history back to thousand of years before 1607, continue to live in all parts of Virginia today. (VS.2g)
Virginia Indians live and work as modern Americans. They practice ancient traditions and crafts while incorporating new customs over time.
The current state recognized tribes are located in regions throughout Virginia. The tribes maintain tribal museums and lands on which they hold public festivals called powwows. The powwow is a way of teaching American Indians and visitors about American Indian culture, past and present.

Today, Virginia Indians maintain their vibrant cultural heritage through drumming, singing, dance, art, jewelry, clothing, crafts, pottery, and story telling. Virginia Indians contribute to American society as active citizens who vote, hold office, and work in communities.
Why was the House of Burgesses important? The Virginia House of Burgesses was the first elected legislative body in English America giving settlers the opportunity to control their own government.

The General Assembly included:
- the governor
- the governor’s council
- two representatives (called “burgesses”) from each of the divisions of Virginia.
  (At that time, only certain free adult men had a right to take part.)

By the 1640s, the burgesses became a separate legislative body called the House of Burgesses.
They met separately from the Governor’s Council as one of the two legislative bodies of the General Assembly.

What effect did agriculture have on the Virginia colony? Tobacco became the most profitable agricultural product and was sold in England as a cash crop. A cash crop is a crop that is grown to sell for money rather than for use by the growers.

What impact did the arrival of Africans and women to the Jamestown settlement have? The arrival of Africans made it possible to expand tobacco economy. The arrival of additional women in 1620 made it possible for more settlers to establish families and a permanent settlement at Jamestown.

What changes took place that resulted in survival of the settlers? The site they chose to live on was marshy and lacked safe drinking water. Many settlers died of starvation and disease. A drought at the time of settlement reduced the amount of food available to everyone in Virginia.

What was the impact of the arrival of Africans and women to the Jamestown settlement? Portuguese sailors captured African men and women from what is present-day Angola. The legal status of these early African men and women as either servants or enslaved people once they arrived in Virginia is unknown.

Africans arrived in Jamestown against their will in 1619. Impact: The arrival of Africans made it possible to expand tobacco economy. Impact: The arrival of additional women in 1620 made it possible for more settlers to establish families and a permanent settlement at Jamestown.

Where did the various cultural groups settle? The English and other Europeans settled primarily in Coastal Plain (Tidewater) and Piedmont regions. Germans and Scots-Irish settled primarily in the Shenandoah Valley, which was along the migration route. Africans were brought primarily to the Coastal Plains and Piedmont regions to work in tobacco fields, which required a great deal of labor. Prior to the arrival of the settlers, American Indians lived throughout Virginia. After the settlers arrived, most were forced inland. Place names reflecting culture: Richmond (English) and Roanoke (American Indian)

What hardships did the Jamestown settlers face? The site they chose to live on was marshy and lacked safe drinking water. The settlers lacked some skills necessary to provide for themselves. Many settlers died of starvation and disease. A drought at the time of settlement reduced the amount of food available to everyone in Virginia.

What changes took place that resulted in survival of the settlers? Arrival of ships bring supplies and new settlers. Forced work program and strong leadership of Captain John Smith. Emphasis on agriculture. Development of new settlements that spread away from the unhealthy environment of Jamestown.

Migration and living in new areas caused people to adapt old customs to their new environment. Although a colony of England, Virginia developed a unique culture. The culture of colonial Virginia reflected beliefs, customs, and architecture of Europeans, Africans and American Indians living in those areas.

Whenever people settle an area, they change the culture and landscape to reflect their beliefs, customs, and architecture of their culture.

Examples of architecture that reflect different cultures include:

- Barns
- Places of worship
- Homes

Where did the various cultural groups settle?
- The English and other Europeans settled primarily in Coastal Plain (Tidewater) and Piedmont regions.
- Germans and Scots-Irish settled primarily in the Shenandoah Valley, which was along the migration route.
- Africans were brought primarily to the Coastal Plains and Piedmont regions to work in tobacco fields, which required a great deal of labor.
- Prior to the arrival of the settlers, American Indians lived throughout Virginia. After the settlers arrived, most were forced inland.

Place names reflecting culture: Richmond (English) and Roanoke (American Indian)
Relocation of Virginia’s Capital from Jamestown to Williamsburg (VS.4c)
A variety of factors explain the reasons for moving Virginia’s capital.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>What were some reasons why the capital was moved from Jamestown to Williamsburg?</th>
<th>What were some reasons why the capital was moved from Williamsburg to Richmond? (VS. 5d)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| • Jamestown’s drinking water was contaminated by seepage of salt water.
• Unhealthy living conditions caused diseases.
• Fire destroyed wooden and brick buildings at Jamestown.
• Williamsburg was an established town. | • Population was moving westward for more opportunities.
• Richmond was a more central location.
• Moving to Richmond increased the distance from the sea and possible attack by the British. |

Money was not often used in the early Virginia colony. What forms of exchange were used in the Virginia colony? (VS.4d)

- Few people had paper money and coins to use to buy goods and services.
- Barter was commonly used instead of money.
- Tobacco was used as money. A tobacco farmer could use his tobacco to pay for goods and services.
- Farmers and other consumers could also buy good and services on credit and pay their debts when their crops were harvested and sold.

Barter was commonly used instead of money. Colonial Virginia had no banks.

How did resources influence the food, housing, and clothing in colonial Virginia? (VS.4e)

Resources were used in colonial Virginia to produce the goods and services that the people needed. People depended on natural, human, and capital resources to produce the goods and services they needed.

Food:
- Food choices were limited
- Meals were made of local produce and meats

Housing:
- Most people lived in one-room homes with dirt floors
- Some wealthy people (merchants, lawyers, planters) lived in large houses

Clothing:
- Women made clothes for family members in their households.
- Most clothing was made of cotton, wool and/or leather

The Declaration of Independence gave reasons for independence and ideas for self-government. (VS.5a)
The Declaration of Independence states:
- the authority to govern belongs to the people rather than to kings
- all people are created equal and have rights to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

Thomas Jefferson authored the Declaration of Independence.

How was everyday life different for whites, enslaved African Americans, and free African Americans in colonial Virginia? (VS.4e)

- Most white Virginians made their living from the land as small farmers. A few owned large farms (plantations.)
- Most enslaved African Americans worked tobacco, other crops and livestock.
- Enslaved African Americans were denied basic rights.
- Some free African Americans owned their own land, but were denied most rights.

Terms to Know (VS.4d)
- money: a medium of exchange (currency which includes coins and paper bills)
- barter: trading/exchanging of goods and services without the use of money
- credit: buying a good or service now and paying for it later
- debt: a good or service owed to another
- saving: money put away to save or to spend at a later time

How did the colonists ideas about government differ from those of the British Parliament? (VS.5a)

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Parliament</th>
<th>Colonists</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| • Parliament believed it had legal authority in the colonies.
• Parliament believed it had the right to tax the colonies. | • Colonists believed their local assemblies had legal authority.
• Colonists believed they should not be taxed since they had no representation in Parliament. |

The Marquis de Lafayette, a French nobleman, volunteered his service to the Continental Army during the American Revolution. The King of France provided French troops, ships, and money. The Marquis de Lafayette contributed to the victory at Yorktown.
What geographic factors influenced Virginians to move to the western frontier of Virginia and beyond? (VS.6c)

After the American Revolution, Virginia’s agricultural base began to change, and as a result, large numbers of Virginians moved west and to the deep South to find better farmland and new opportunities.

- Tobacco farming was hard on the soil, causing many farmers to look west and south for new land to farm.
- The development of the cotton gin led to the opening of new lands in the south and attracted settlers from Virginia.
- The mechanical reaper allowed farmers to grow more wheat with fewer workers, which forced many Virginians to leave the state in search of jobs.

- Virginians migrated into western territories looking for large areas of land and new opportunities.
- As Virginians moved, they took their enslaved people, traditions, ideas, and cultures with them.
- Many enslaved people were sold to people who lived in other southern states.

Settlers crossed the Appalachian Mountains through the Cumberland Gap as they migrated to new lands in the west.

What contributed to the Virginia Declaration of Rights? (VS.6a)

The Virginia Declaration of Rights was written by George Mason in 1776. It was a document that listed the rights of Virginia citizens and served as a model for the United States Constitution. It was adopted by the Virginia General Assembly on June 17, 1776, and was one of the first documents to establish the rights of citizens.

The Virginia Declaration of Rights included a number of provisions that later became important parts of the United States Constitution, such as the right to freedom of speech, freedom of religion, and the right to bear arms.

What was the importance of the American victory at Yorktown? (VS. 5c)

- The American victory at Yorktown resulted in the surrender of the British army in 1781, which led to an end to the war.
- While this victory did not end the war, it was the last significant military battle involving British forces and the Continental Army.
- The war ended with the Treaty of Paris in 1783.

Patriot | Neutral | Loyalist

| Virginians who served in the Continental Army and fought for independence leading to the British surrender at Yorktown. | Virginians who did not take sides with either Great Britain or the Continental Army. | Virginians who remained loyal to Great Britain. |

Some enslaved African Americans supported the British, who promised them freedom. Some free African Americans fought for independence. Some American Indians fought alongside the Virginia patriots, while others fought with the British.

Women took on more responsibility to support the war effort.

James Lafayette, an enslaved African American from Virginia, served as a spy in the Continental Army during the war. He successfully requested his freedom after the war with support from the Marquis de Lafayette.

George Washington provided military leadership by serving as commander-in-chief of the Continental Army.

Thomas Jefferson provided political leadership by expressing the reasons for colonial independence from Great Britain in the Declaration of Independence.

Patrick Henry inspired patriots from other colonies when he spoke out against taxation without representation by saying, “. . . Give me liberty or give me death.”
Differences between the Northern and Southern States that led to the Civil War (VS.7a)

</tr>
<tr>
<td>Northern states wanted the new states created out of the western territory to be “free states.”</td>
<td>Southern states wanted the new states created out of the western territory to be “slave states.”</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Events leading to secession and Civil War:

Abolitionists campaigned to end slavery. Nat Turner led a revolt against plantation owners in Virginia. Harriet Tubman supported a secret route that escaped enslaved African Americans took; it became known as the “Underground Railroad.” John Brown led a raid on the United States Armory (Arsenal) at Harpers Ferry, Virginia. He was trying to start a slave rebellion. He was captured and hanged.

Why did Virginia secede from the Union? (VS.7a)

After Abraham Lincoln was elected President of the United States in 1860, some southern states seceded from the Union and formed the “Confederate States of America.” Later, Virginia seceded and joined them.

How did West Virginia become a state? (VS.7a)

> Conflict grew between the eastern counties of Virginia that relied on slavery and western counties that did not favor slavery.
> Many disagreements between the two regions of the state led to the formation of West Virginia.

What major Civil War battles were fought in Virginia? (VS.7b)

The first Battle of Bull Run (or Manassas) was the first major clash of the Civil War. Confederate General Thomas “Stonewall” Jackson played a major role in the battle. Fredericksburg: General Robert E. Lee, Commander of the Army of Northern Virginia, defeated Union troops at Fredericksburg, Virginia.

Richmond: The Confederate capital fell to General Ulysses S. Grant and was burned Confederacy near the end of the war. Fires were set by retreating Confederate forces to keep war supplies from approaching Union Forces.

Monitor (Union ship) and the Merrimack (Confederate ship): Lincoln used the Union Navy to blockade southern ports. An important sea battle between the Monitor (Union) and the Merrimack (Confederate), two iron-clad ships, took place in Virginia waters near Norfolk and Hampton. The battle was fought to a draw.

Appomattox Court House: The Civil War ended at Appomattox Court House, Virginia, where Confederate General Robert E. Lee surrendered his Confederate army to Union General Ulysses S. Grant in April 1865.

Reconstruction: The period following the Civil War in which Congress passed laws designed to rebuild the country and bring the southern states back into the Union. (VS.8a)

What were some of the problems Virginians faced during the period of Reconstruction?

Hundreds of thousands of freed African Americans needed housing, education, clothing, food, and jobs.

Virginia’s economy was in ruins:
- Money had no value.
- Banks were closed.
- Railroads, bridge, plantations, and crops were destroyed.
- Businesses needed to be rebuilt

What measures were taken to resolve problems?

- The Freedmen’s Bureau was a government agency that provided food, schools, and medical care for freed African Americans and others in Virginia.
- Sharecropping was a system common in Virginia after the war in which freed men and poor white farmers rented land from a landowner by promising to pay the owner with a share of the crop.

“Jim Crow” Laws (VS.8b)

During Reconstruction, African Americans began to have power in Virginia’s government, and men of all races could vote and hold office.

After Reconstruction, these gains were lost when “Jim Crow” laws were passed by Southern states. “Jim Crow” laws legally established segregation or separation of the races and reinforced prejudices held by whites.

Ways “Jim Crow” laws affected the lives of African Americans and American Indians:
- experiencing unfair poll taxes and voting tests were established to keep them from voting.
- difficulty voting or holding public office.
- being forced to use separate poor quality facilities and services such as drinking fountains, restrooms and restaurants.
- attending separate schools.

Segregation and discrimination had an impact on housing, employment, health care, political representation, and education.

Terms to Know:

Segregation: the separation of people, usually based on race or religion (VS.8b)

Discrimination: an unfair difference in the treatment of people (VS.8b)

Desegregation: Abolishment of racial segregation (VS.9c)

Integration: Full equality of all races in the use of public facilities (VS.9c)

How were whites, enslaved African Americans, free African Americans, and American Indians affected by the Civil War? (VS.7c)

- Most white Virginians supported the Confederacy.
- The Confederacy relied on enslaved African Americans to raise crops and provide labor for the army.
- Many enslaved African Americans sought freedom by following the Union Army, where many found work. Some women and men provided labor, some men fought for the Union Army.
- Some free African Americans joined the Union Army and Navy.
- Many American Indians did not take sides during the Civil War.
Virginia began to grow in many areas after the Civil War and Reconstruction. Virginia’s cities grew with people, businesses, and factories. (VS.8c)

What changes took place in Virginia to boost the economic growth?
- Railroads were a key to the expansion of business, agriculture, and industry. They facilitated the growth of small towns into cities.
- Other parts of Virginia grew as other industries developed.
- Coal deposits were mined in the Appalachian Plateau.
- The need for more and better roads increased.
- Tobacco farming and the manufacture of tobacco products became important Virginia industries.

During the early 20th century, agriculture began to change. (VS.9a)

Why did Virginia change from an agricultural to an industrial society?
- Mechanization (tractors) and improvements in transportation changed farming.
- Crop prices were low.

What caused Virginia’s cities to grow?
- People moved from rural to urban areas for economic opportunities.
- Technological developments in transportation, roads, railroads, and streetcars helped cities grow.
- Coal mining spurred the growth of Virginia.
- During the 20th century, Northern Virginia experienced growth due to an increase in the number of federal jobs located there.
- In the late 20th Century and the early 21st century, Northern Virginia and the Coastal Plan (Tidewater) region have grown due to computer technology.
- Virginia’s population has become increasingly diverse as people have moved to the state from many other states and countries.

The Great Depression (VS.9b)

The Great Depression was a period of harsh economic conditions worldwide during the 1930s. Many Virginians lost their jobs, homes, and businesses. The federal government established New Deal programs to provide employment and ease many hardships.

What changes occurred in Virginia as a result of the Civil Rights Movement? (VS.9c)

Barbara Johns, a 16-year-old high school junior in Farmville, VA, led a student strike against segregation in 1951. The case that resulted, Davis v. County School Board of Prince Edward, became one of the five cases reviewed by the U.S. Supreme Court when it declared segregation unconstitutional in Brown v. Board of Education.

The United States Supreme Court ruled in 1954 (Brown v. Board of Education) that “separate but equal” public schools were unconstitutional. All public schools, including those in Virginia, were ordered to desegregate.

Massive Resistance
- Virginia’s government established a policy of Massive Resistance, which fought to “resist” the integration of public schools.
- Some schools were closed to avoid integration.
- The policy of Massive Resistance failed, and Virginia’s public schools were integrated.
- Harry F. Byrd, Sr., led a Massive Resistance movement against the desegregation of public schools.

After World War II, African Americans demanded equal treatment and the recognition of their rights as American citizens.

As a result of the Civil Rights Movement, laws were passed that made racial discrimination illegal.

Contributions of Citizens (VS.9d)

Any individuals made social, political, and economic contributions to Virginia live in the 20th and 21st centuries.

Maggie L. Walker was the first African American woman to establish and become a bank president in the United States.

Harry F. Byrd, Sr. was governor, known for “Pay as You Go” policy for road improvements, and he modernized Virginia state government.

Oliver W. Hill, Sr. was a lawyer and civil rights leader who worked for equal rights of African Americans. He played a key role in the Brown v. Board of Education decision.

Arthur R. Ashe, Jr., was the first African American winner of a major men’s tennis singles championship. He was also an author and eloquent spokesperson for social change.

A. Linwood Holton, Jr., as governor of Virginia, promoted racial equality, and appointed more African Americans and women to positions in state government than previous governors.

L. Douglas Wilder, as governor of Virginia, was the first African American to be elected a state governor in the United States.

The United States Constitution was amended in 1920 to give women the right to vote. Maggie L Walker was an African American leader from Virginia who supported equal rights for women.

Three Branches of Government (VS.10a)

What are the three branches of government in Virginia and what are the powers of each branch?
- The General Assembly is the legislative branch.
  - Makes state laws
  - Divided into two parts - the Senate and the House of Delegates
  - The governor heads the executive branch.
  - Makes sure that state laws are carried out
  - The court system is the judicial branch.
  - Decides cases about people accused of breaking the law and whether or not a law agrees with Virginia’s constitution.

Virginia Today (VS.10c)

Virginia’s transportation system (highways, railroads, and air transportation) moves raw materials to factories and finished products to markets.

Virginia exports agricultural and manufactured products, including tobacco, poultry, coal, and large ships.

Virginia has a large number of communication and other technology industries.

Tourism is a major part of Virginia’s economy.

Because many federal workers live and/or work in Virginia, the federal government has a significant impact on Virginia’s economy.

Virginia has increased trade relationships with other countries.

Virginia Standards of Learning (2008), Rebecca Mills, Supervisor of Social Studies, Spotsylvania County Schools Updated by Kellie Regan for 2015 SOL Standards
